Blood Revenge Is Meted Out By Executions

Iron Guard Kills 64 Prisoners Near Founder's Grave

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Nov. 27.—(P)—The Rumanian Iron Guard was reported today to have taken a bloody revenge on the regime of former King Carol II early today by executing 64 political prisoners near the grave of Corneliu Zelea Codreanu, founder of the guard.

They fell under the rifle fire of a troop of Iron Guards at Bucharest's grim Jilava prison, according to the Hungarian news agency and other corroborative sources which penetrated the censorship imposed in Rumania by the Iron Guard government of Premier General Ion Antonescu.

This censorship virtually isolated the turbulent Balkan nation from neighboring countries from midnight on, but German and Hungarian sources managed to send the story out of Bucharest by using legation telephones.

All judges and gendarmes alleged to have had a part in the mass killing of Iron Guards when Carol was on the throne were reported shot.

The firing squad purge was said to have been carried out in the same manner that many hundreds of Guards were executed before the Nazi-inclined guard seized the power in Rumania, forced Carol to abdicate in September and began a close alignment of Rumania with Germany.

Former Premier Shot

Among those reported executed at 11:30 a. m. today, a few hours after Premier Antonescu returned from Berlin where he signed the axis pact for Rumania, were former Premier George Argesanu; General Gabriel Marinescu, a former cabinet minister and prefect of police in Bucharest, and Ion Morusov, former chief of the Rumanian secret service.

"Rumanian justice" also was reported to have dealt with a former gendarme commander, General Bengliu, and 14 gendarmes who were directly accused of garroting Codreanu and 13 other Guards at Jilava prison in 1938.

The arrest of former premiers, Ion Gligurcu and Constantine Argetoianu also was reported by the Hungarian news agency.

Expects U. S. Be 'Second Arsenal'

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(P)—A member of the British war cabinet disclosed today that Britain had made a "clean breast" of her deficiencies to the United States and expects North America soon to become "a second arsenal" sufficient to insure British victory.

This came from minister without portfolio, Arthur Greenwood, in vigorous house of commons debate on a Laborite assertion that the Churchill government had failed to face the facts that the dice of war are heavily loaded against us.

Almost at the same time Ernest Bevin, minister of labor, announced to commons that "between now and next June there will be another enormous call-up" of Britain's manpower for the fighting services.

Greenwood echoed Prime Minister Churchill's recent statement that Britain is far from being fully armed.

However, he went on to say that her military potential is growing and eventually would triumph.

Resistance To Greeks Stiffens

ATHENS, Nov. 27.—(P)—Reinforcements of troops and planes were reported today to have stiffened the resistance of Italian forces in the southern Albanian sector, but Greek dispatches said the Fascist retreat in northern and central zones was continuing.

Besides the newly arrived troops, said information from the front, Italy sent additional planes at the urgent request of General Ubaldo Soddu, the new Italian commander in Albania in an attempt to halt the onrushing Greeks.

In the north and center the Italians were said to be retiring in disorder and abandoning a wealth of material.

Striking at one of the chief points of entry for Italian supplies and reinforcements, British bombers aiding the Greeks were reported to have made "highly successful raids" on Valona, sheltered Albanian port near the mouth of the Adriatic sea opposite the Italian port of Otranto.

Award $15,000 To Paul Barnett

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 27.—(P)—A 3-judge federal court today awarded $15,000 to Paul Barnett, attorney who served the court as special master in hearings last year in the Missouri fire insurance rate case. Making the award were Judges Kimbrough Stone, Albert L. Reeves and Merrill E. Otis.

Paul Barnett is a former Sedalia attorney and while a resident here was a prosecuting attorney of Pettis county.

Turns Fugitive Before Chance To Join Army

Oral Wilson And Two Others Break Jail At Warsaw

The status of a fugitive from justice was evidently preferable to that of a soldier to Oral Wilson, 18, of Spencer, Iowa, one of three inmates of the Benton county jail at Warsaw, who escaped Tuesday night or early this morning.

Wilson, held on a charge of taking an automobile belonging to "Gene Boring, Warsaw druggist, was to have been taken to Kansas City today for a physical examination by army officers. He had expressed a desire to join the army and had been given assurance by Benton county officers that if he passed the examination and was accepted, all charges pending against him would be dismissed.

Finds Trio Missing

When Sheriff Harrison Eaton went to the jail this morning to release Wilson for the trip he found not only Wilson missing, but two other inmates, Cecil Price, 22, of Sedalia and Harry Parker, 56, of Kansas City.

Howard Allen, of Lakeview Heights, also an inmate of the jail told the sheriff he slept soundly all night and knew nothing of the escape until he arose this morning.

Wilson, Price and Parker released themselves by sawing a bar out of the jail door and digging a hole through the 18-inch jail wall, through which they crawled. Residents living near the jail report hearing a car about 3 o'clock this morning, leading to the belief there may have been an outside accomplice.

Price, who resides on East Fourteenth street, was arrested in Sedalia last Thursday, at the request of Benton county officers, charged with making a felonious assault on a resident of Warsaw.

Parker, arrested July 31, was charged with picking the pocket of W. W. Wisdom, at a political meeting in Warsaw where Maurice Milligan was the principal speaker. His trial was set for December 12.

Autos Damaged In Collision Tuesday

Slight damage resulted to two cars in an automobile collision at Third street and Kentucky avenue about 6 o'clock Tuesday night. One car, a 1931 Chevrolet sedan, driven by Mrs. Whitley Woodson and the other was a 1929 Ford roadster driven by Marvin Butler.

Mrs. Woodson was going north on Kentucky avenue and Butler was headed west on Third street, when the accident occurred.

Paring Knives Sharpened Up To Cut Budget

Non-Defense Is Expected To Be On Bare Essentials

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(P)—Congressional exponents of curtailed federal expenditures sharpened their paring knives with new gusto today after President Roosevelt announced that he intended to cut non-defense outlays to bare essentials in the new budget.

There were various estimates on the amount that might thus be saved. The consensus of rigid economy advocates was that the maximum to be hoped for would be about $500,000,000 in the fiscal year beginning next July.

Should that maximum be realized, they said, it would represent approximately 10 per cent of the current year's normal expenditures, omitting the fixed charges and both regular and extraordinary defense spending.

Senator Adams (D-Colo.), influential member of the senate appropriations committee, said that in his eyes, $500,000,000 would represent a "material saving," although it might seem relatively small along side contemplated total expenditures.

The actual spending of the current fiscal year has been estimated at approximately $13,000,000,000, although congress actually voted $20,000,000,000 in cash and authorizations. Unofficial reports place the size of the new budget at $15,000,000,000 or more.

Defense Be Advanced

The President told his press conference yesterday that by next spring or summer the defense program would be in full swing and employing a great number of people now jobless.

This should permit, he said, sharp cuts in appropriations for all non-military public works.

Highway, river and harbor, public parks and forest land expenditures would be sliced, he announced, and the WPA would be given an increased percentage of national defense work.

Observing that congress was already committed to huge new defense outlays in the forthcoming year, Senator Adams said he could see "no escape" from increased taxes and a boost in the treasury's borrowing authority.

"But," he told reporters, "we ought to pay our normal operating expenses out of income and if there is a will to economize on them, I think it can be done."

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee said he had not given any detailed study yet to higher taxes or to increasing the treasury's debt limitation above the present $49,000,000,000.

Social Session For B. And P. W. Club

The Business and Professional Women's club will have its social session for the month at the home of Mrs. Fred Kueck, 1406 West Fourth street, Thursday evening. It will be a dinner, served in the basement at 6:30 o'clock.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Kueck, Dr. Ermine J. Fischer, Mrs. J. H. Frederick, Mrs. Margaret Jackson, Mrs. Marie A. Spendiff, Mrs. Alberta M. Zernickow, Miss Bertha Rose and Miss Ruth McMullin.

Service Meet By Rotarians

The Sedalia Rotary club held a meeting at the home of the president, Ernest Thompson, 402 South Park avenue, Tuesday evening.

The session was presided over by Emile Landmann, who discussed community life, stressing the following points: Know your members, special recognition of new membership, and necessity of attendance.

After the session Mrs. Thompson invited the guests to the dining room where she served refreshments.

Back To Work As Strike Ends

Vultee Company Resumes Operations On Planes Contract

DOWNEY, California, Nov. 27.—(P)—The sprawling Vultee aircraft factory, its 12 day strike settled by a 16-months agreement providing for arbitration of workers' disputes, resumes operations today on its $84,000,000 worth of military contracts.

The agreement, signed last night by representatives of the company and the CIO United Automobile Workers, carries wage increases of some $1,400,000 annually for production men in the minimum pay bracket.

Richard W. Millar, Vultee president, said "it will take a little time to get the factory in shape for work resumption, but we probably can start some men back to work at once."

Other company representatives declared there would be no "mass re-employment."

"It will be a slow process," one of them said. "The men will be subjected to almost as close scrutiny as when they were originally employed."

Federal Bureau of Investigation agents, it was declared, will closely scrutinize returning workers to make sure that no spies effect entry into the plant among their numbers.

Attorney General Robert Jackson and Rep. Martin Dies, chairman of the congressional committee investigating subversive activities, have charged that "Communist influences" played a part in the walkout. The charges were emphatically denied by union officials.

The contract provides for a minimum wage of 62½ cents an hour for present employees, equal pay for future employees with a year's mechanical experience and a minimum of 55 cents for future unskilled workers, to be increased to 62½ cents at the end of 90 days employment.

A clause provides that the "union will not cause or engage in or permit its members to take part in any sit-down, stay-in, slow down or sympathy strike in the plant . . . or any curtailment of the work or restriction of production or interference with production of the company."

The company, on its part, guarantees not to "cause or sanction a lockout."

Youth Is Killed By Streamliner

NEW HAVEN, Mo., Nov. 27.—(P)—The Missouri Pacific's stream lined passenger train, "The Eagle" struck a light delivery truck at the crossing in New Haven today, killing William Nichols, 17, the driver and critically injuring Alvin Ebker, also 17.

The crossing is guarded by electric signals. Nichols was driving east and it was believed the sun's glare prevented him from seeing the flashing signals. The truck drove in front of the train.

The Eagle, en route to Kansas City, was delayed about 45 minutes by the accident.

Driven From Flooded Homes

Texas Rivers And Streams Inundate The Lowlands

DALLAS, Nov. 27.—(P)—Hundreds of families fled from their homes today before the onrush of rampaging Texas rivers that flooded lowlands in a muddy sweep to the gulf.

South Texas braced for the crush of waters that have taken one life and brought untold damage to crops, livestock and homes.

The hard-hit east and central portions began the long pull from under devastating effects of the flood waters while the Panhandle dug out from under heavy ice formations that paralyzed transportation facilities and utilities.

The Dallas weather bureau said clear weather prevailed in the southern and southwestern sections of the state with partly cloudy skies elsewhere.

Reports from Plainville of conditions in Amarillo, isolated by ice coated power and communication lines, said electrical lines had been restored to some extent and that water was again flowing in many of the mains.

The Brazos, Colorado, San Jacinto, Sabine and Trinity rivers disgorged heavy waters over rich farm lands and endangered cities and towns in the rush toward the gulf.

One Man Drowns

One man, Arch Glover, was reported drowned near Centerville. He was believed to be the only victim of the floods thus far.

Automobile traffic between Houston and the hard-hit tri-cities area of Goose Creek, Baytown and Laporte, was suspended last night. The Houston-Goose Creek highway was closed because concrete was being undermined on a bridge approach at the San Jacinto river. Highways still were open between Goose Creek and Beaumont.

Five hundred families were evacuated from Simonton, southeast of Houston, and many fled from East Columbia before the menace of the roaring Brazos.

At Sealy, where the Brazos hit hardest, the situation quieted. An estimated 400 persons were rescued from this area.

Plane traffic to Amarillo was restored yesterday, a Braniff airways ship reaching that city with an auxiliary motor and generator for the disabled radio station at the airport.

Schools Given Awards In Parade Held

Georgetown First For Rural With Broadway In City

The Broadway school and the Georgetown school floats were the winners of the first prizes in the city and rural school classes respectively, in the Chamber of Commerce sponsored Christmas parade held in Sedalia Tuesday afternoon. Each school received $20 in cash.

"United We Stand: Divided We Fall" was the theme of the Broadway school float. Miss Edythe Couey, a member of the faculty, represented the goddess of Liberty, and riding behind the float were pupils on bicycles, each one representing a state or possession of the United States.

The Georgetown school float was a winter scene, the whole enclosed with a small white picket fence.

Many Attractive Floats

There were so many attractive floats, symbolical of the season, and the school enrollments in attractive and symbolical costumes, that the judges had difficulty in selecting the winners. Old Santa Claus, most ably represented by Hugo Sparr, was surrounded by a group of little girls, pupils of Miss Lillian Hurley's dancing class, was greeted with applause by the crowds that thronged the sidewalks.

Other schools winning prizes were as follows: (Sedalia) Mark Twain, second place and Whittier third; (Out-of-town) Lookout school second place and Prairie Ridge, third. The second place prize in both divisions was $10.00; third place was $5.

In the enrollment contest the following prizes were awarded: (Sedalia) Jefferson, first place, Horace Mann, second, and Washington, third; (Out-of-town) High Point, first place, Centerville, second and Dunbar, third. Prizes in the enrollment contest were $10, $5, and $2.50 respectively. The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce made all of the awards.

Raider Sinks Cargo Ship

CANBERRA, Australia, Nov. 27

(P)—An "enemy raider" sank the 8,739-ton British cargo ship Port Brisbane in the middle of the Indian ocean five days ago, W. M. Hughes, Australian navy minister, disclosed today.

Hughes said an Australian warship had arrived at an Australian port with 27 survivors.

(German communiques recently have reported sinkings of merchant ships in "overseas waters" by German surface raiders. Some of these are known to have occurred in the north Atlantic but there have been previous reports of a raider in the Indian ocean.)

Walkout Shuts Down Work on TVA Dam

GILBERTSVILLE, Ky., Nov. 27.—(P)—A Walkout today caused a shutdown of work on the huge TVA Kentucky dam, affecting approximately 2,000 workers.

George Jessup, project manager, said a group of skilled workmen quit work in protest against discharge of a foreman after a fight with employees.

British Fleet In 'Brush' With Ships Of Italian Forces

Enemy Retires At High Speed Toward Base

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(P)—Britain's Mediterranean fleet reported that it had engaged a strong Italian sea force at "extreme range" today and that it pursued the Italians "retired at high speed" toward their base.

The admiralty, which has asserted previously that the Italian navy had refused to come to grips with the British, said no information was available immediately on the outcome of the brief brush between the fleets.

A communique reported that the British encountered two Italian battleships accompanied by a "large force" of cruisers and destroyers shortly before noon.

(Britain has claimed, and Italy has denied, that torpedo planes incapacitated half of Italy's battleships in a Nov. 11 raid on Taranto, leaving the Italians only three active capital ships.)

The communique said: "Information has been received that our naval forces in the Mediterranean made contact shortly before noon today with an Italian force reported to consist of two battleships accompanied by a large force of cruisers and destroyers."

"Immediately on becoming aware of the approach of our forces, the enemy altered course and retired at high speed toward his base. Our forces pursued and it is known that they engaged the enemy at extreme range."

"No further information is at present available, but full details will be announced as soon as possible."

Bomb An Italian City

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(P)—A rapid fire attack by British heavy bombers on the very center of Italian war production was reported by the air ministry today to have lighted "a number of fires" in the factory city of Turin and set it shaking with bursts of its own explosives.

As the RAF lunged at both Turin and Berlin last night, the axis assaults on Britain lagged for a second successive night, and recurring raid warnings today was productive of only scattered, mild attacks to the British isles.

London had its third, brief (Please turn to Page 6, Col. 1)

Burglarize Bank Of About $4,000

BIRCH TREE, Mo., Nov. 27.—(P)—Burglars used an acetylene torch to cut open the safe and vault of the Bank of Birch Tree some time last night and escaped with money and valuable papers.

D. C. Bowden, cashier, said the burglars forced a window but that the burglary was not discovered until the bank was opened for business today. He said everything in the bank was left untouched pending arrival of highway patrolmen who were asked to take over the investigation.

"The burglars," he said, "apparently took all the money they could find." The bank officials announced after a preliminary check the loss would be around $4,000.

The bank, organized in 1929, according to a recent statement had approximately $35,000 on hand and due from other banks. It is capitalized at $15,000 and deposits were listed in that statement at $110,000.

Slightly Injured As Autos Collide

Earl Crawford and F. A. Boysen suffered minor injuries and Mr. Boysen's car was slightly damaged, when it was struck by a car driven by George Brill, of Kansas City, Monday night.

The accident occurred about seven miles east of Jefferson City. Mr. Crawford and Mr. Boysen were returning to Sedalia from St. Louis and Mr. Brill was driving east.

Clubs Sponsor Light Contest

A home lighting and decorating contest for the Christmas season, will be sponsored again this year by the Sedalia Garden Clubs.

The purpose of the holiday lighting contest is to encourage every one to work out decorative and inspirational ideas for homes and yards. The contest is open to all Sedalians and the Garden Clubs are looking forward to having a large number of Sedalia homes entered in the contest this year.

Money prizes will be given for the different entry classifications. The contest will open December 22 and carry on until January 1. Detailed information as to entry classifications will appear later in the Democrat. Entry blanks also will be published for the convenience of those wishing to compete this year.

The Christmas lighting contest committee is announcing the dates early this year, with the idea in mind that every one could begin planning ideas and working them out for his or her own entry.

The Christmas lighting contest committee follows: Mrs. W. LeRoy Whitaker, chairman; Mrs. G. W. Chambers, Mrs. B. E. Heacock, Miss Dorothy Truitt and Mrs. G. A. Walters.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—Last week Bernard Baruch, silver-haired head of the World War Industries Board of 1917-18, attended a meeting of the National Defense Commission of 1940 and gave a little talk on its work. In a fatherly way, he read his listeners a pointed lecture on the key weakness of the defense machinery.

Insiders long have known that this weakness was a too wide diffusion of authority and lack of coordination in administration.

"You have done a good job," Baruch said, "and deserve the thanks of the country. But bluntly, gentlemen, it still is far short of what has to be done. The simple fact is that neither present production nor plans for future output are meeting our defense needs and the requirements of the British.

"You must remember that the Axis is organizing the whole economic might of Europe and Russia for the final conquering blow. What we do this winter to prepare for that onslaught will decide the fate of Britain and our country next spring. It is a lot later and the situation far more desperate than you may realize.

"The people of the country are behind you and they want more to be done. They want the United States to arm to the hilt and to give the utmost aid to Britain. There is no question about that. And you must never forget that the United States today is the only country in the world that has an industrial system capable of producing simultaneously both for defense and consumer needs.

"The defense program, if wisely planned and efficiently directed, not only can save democracy from the totalitarian aggressors but also from the internal enemies of depression and unemployment. But that can't be done at the leisurely pace we are now going."

Penetrating as it was, Baruch's talk missed the target in one major respect. The one man, above all others, who should have heard it was not present.

He is the President of the United States, who has the responsibility and the power to act.

Defense Weakness

The President is fully informed of what is going on abroad, and the weakness of the Defense Commission have repeatedly been called to his attention by officials whom he trusts.

Briefly summarized, here are some of the major defects in the National Defense Advisory Commission and its cooperation with the army which have been called to Roosevelt's attention:

1. The Defense Commission is an advisory body. It was created by executive order and has no statutory status, no real powers. Its chief functions are to ensure raw materials, help find factory production, guarantee labor standards, and protect the consumer. But the army and navy can ignore its advice—unless the President personally intervenes, and obviously it is impossible for him to keep an eye on everything.

2. Even within the Defense Commission itself, the organization is nebulous. Each of the seven commissioners is independent of the others. Labor Commissioner Sidney Hillman can put through a set of labor principles and even have them accepted by the White House, but these principles may be completely ignored by Production Commissioner Knudsen.

3. Much of the Defense Commission's organization, duplicated by the army, which also has set up a huge supply machinery. Part of this probably is necessary, since the Defense Commission only passes upon orders over $500,000, but unquestionably there is jealousy between the army and the Defense Commission.

4. Toward the end of the election campaign, many of the Defense Commission's staff, composed largely of Willkie boosters, became engulfed in a vacuum of uneasiness and uncertainty. Apparently they were confident that Willkie would win, and some of them have not yet recovered.

Real fact is that facing each other across Constitution Avenue are two great mushroom military growths. One is the army, the normal agency of defense, which of late has added personnel by the score. The other is the Defense Commission, a sort of super-preparedness council. But no one knows which of these is the real boss.

And even within the Defense Commission itself, there is no boss. Relations between commissioners are on a purely personal basis. Knudsen and Stettinius happen to be good friends, so each knows exactly what the other is doing. Other commissioners who don't happen to be close don't always know what the rest are doing.

Labor Goodwill

One point made by Bernard Baruch in his talk before the Defense Commission was the necessity of having the goodwill of labor. Without this, he said, speed was impossible.

Roosevelt made a good start on this when on September 13 he sent Congress a special message outlining labor standards which were to be followed in letting government contracts. However, it was not until ten days ago that the army actually wrote these standards into its contracts. Meanwhile many of these labor standards have been ignored.

For instance, when the contract for airplane engines was signed with Ford exactly one day after election, it caused a terrific furore in labor circles. But what labor did not know was that when the army first prepared the contract it even forgot to insert a clause requiring the Ford Company to comply with the Walsh-Healey Act. Secret fact is that it was the Ford Company which noticed the omission and called it to the attention of the army, which then inserted the clause.

The excuse of the army regarding its failure to put labor specifications into these contracts, is, 1st, that it is working at breakneck speed; 2nd, that the various labor laws already are the law of the land and no special contract is required for compliance.

This, however, is a point which labor does not appreciate, and there has been more and more grumbling because labor safeguards have not been written into army contracts. In fact, already there is talk of a strike against the Ford Company because of its new contract and its failure to live up to Labor Relations Board rulings.

During the campaign, the President met all inner circle complaints about the Defense Commission with assurances that as soon as the election was over he would give his whole attention to the problem and there would be far-reaching re-organization. But three weeks have passed and so far there is no indication that any action is imminent.

They Hang Separately

Ben Franklin said a mouthful at the signing of the Declaration of Independence when he flipped off those grim words: "We must all hang together, or assuredly we shall all hang separately."

In France, certain elements refused to hang together. Today they are being hung separately.

The Comité des Forges included all the most grimly-reactionary elements of the French steel industry, including no doubt some men who believed that a little "discipline would be a good thing for France." The Confederation Generale du Travail, France's principal labor union, included many elements and leaders who leaned heavily toward syndicalism, the sit-down and general strikes.

Neither those manufacturers nor those left-wing labor leaders really bent their backs to support the republic in its hour of need. Each placed its own group interest above the common interest of all. So now the republic is fallen, and its successor has broken the backs of both the organizations. Because they stubbornly refused to hang together, they now hang separately.

And is there nothing there for Americans to think about?

Laying Aside The Sword

The sword now passes from the military scene, and with it the standby of poets seeking a good symbolism for war, and of comic artists who loved the green lieutenant getting the silly thing tangled up in his legs.

The War Department has officially discontinued the use of the saber, and instruction in its use. Whether there is any plan to beat them into plowshares, we haven't been told. The simple fact remains that swords are a nuisance and no good to kill people with any more.

If only the poetic allusions can be abolished with them, we'll all be ahead. Instead of writing, Amnesia has decided to draw the sword against Insomnia. It will be necessary to write instead, "Amnesia has pulled a gun on Insomnia." That will at least get the simile down to a really descriptive level as applied to current transactions in Europe and Asia.

So They Say

No American should have fear for the future. —James A. Farley.

God will punish Mussolini for defying Him; also for deserting Good Friday by invading Albania and for attacking the Greek people. —Bishop Spiridio of the North Greek mountains.

Many believe that Eton and Harrow are the schools of England. That is incorrect. The common schools of the common people—in them the present British attitude was made.—Dr. Reinhold Schairer, professor in London University.

We must be ruthlessly selfish to assure the guarantee of continuance of American freedom.—Wheeler McMillan, editor of the Farm Journal, speaking to the National Grange.

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

Mrs. E. A. Coe, of the Board of Associated Charities, will see to it that the poor families are provided with a substantial Thanksgiving dinner Thursday.

J. W. Tevebaugh had a sale of all his personal property on his farm north of Sedalia yesterday, in preparation for removing with his family to Clematic, O. K., where they will locate permanently, having bought property there.

Col. Mel Quaintance, the auctioneer, was in from Green Ridge today.

Prof. F. M. Bailey, Clyde Patterson and a number of other Sedalians will witness the Missouri-Kansas football game at Kansas City Thursday, Thanksgiving day.

Election Facts

The 1940 presidential election generated more interest than any similar contest in years. How much do you remember of the results? Here are five questions to test you.

1. The Republican ticket carried 10 states. How many of them can you name?
2. How was the electoral college vote divided?
3. Approximately how many voters cast ballots in the presidential election?
4. Which of the four major party candidates for president and vice president carried their home states?
5. The presidential inauguration will be held January 20. How many presidents have been inaugurated on that date?

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. If it is necessary to call a friend during business hours should you make your conversation brief?
  2. Should a wife make a habit of calling her husband at his office?
  3. If your office frowns on personal telephone calls, it is all right for you to tell your friends of the situation, and ask that they call you at home?
  4. Is it all right to instruct a maid to say, when she answers the telephone during dinner, "Mr. Brown is at dinner. May I have him call you back?"
  5. Should a secretary answering a telephone call to her employer say, "This is Miss Brown, may I help you?" or "This is Mr. Smith's secretary. Can I help you?"
- What would you do if—
- You are having trouble understanding the person who has called you on the telephone—
- (a) Say "Speak louder, please?"
  - (b) Say, "I'm sorry, I didn't understand what you said?"

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels

With herb laxative combined with syrup pepsin to make it agreeable and easy to take

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "craving the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with good old Syrup Pepsin to make your laxative more agreeable and easier to take. For years many Doctors have used Laxative Senna, an agreeable carrier to make other medicines more palatable when your "taster" feels easily upset. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna, combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully its herb Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines, to bring welcome relief from constipation. And see how its Syrup Pepsin makes Dr. Caldwell's medicine so smooth and agreeable to a touchy gutlet. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna at your druggist's today. Try one laxative that won't bring on violent distaste, even when you take it after a full meal.

Collapse Of Democracy In France Discussed At Lecture

"A dynamic democracy, which is able to compete with dictators, which speaks and understands their language, is the answer of America, this democracy of ours," Dr. Harry S. May said Tuesday night in speaking on the subject, "What Can the American Public Learn From the Decline of Democracy in France."

His address was the third of a lecture series being presented by him at the public library under the sponsorship of the Sedalia branch of the American Association of University Women. Nearly 100 persons heard the discussion of the fall of France at the latest meeting. Dr. May lived in France for several years before coming to this country and had made many pertinent observations of the French people, their traditions and attitudes.

An analyst in the field of political science, Dr. May, who is Rabbi at Temple Beth El, gave a strong discourse, and his lecture was followed by a general forum. America faces the fall of France with a bitter and critical attitude, asserted, and "we can honestly say it helped even our own course: rearmament, conscription and the new army and navy projects which are in the making."

But today, he continued, we are witnessing in our country similar things which we could observe in France. We have strikes, union trouble, racketeers in labor, selfish financiers, fifth columnists sitting in high governmental positions, some radical educators entrusted with the education of our youth.

"With all this will we be able to stand the test of our future?" he queried.

Analyzed Character

In analyzing the character of the French people he pointed out that they are a happy combination of Southern and Nordic influence; their characteristics are well balanced. The significance of the French people is that they do not like to fight, Dr. May said. Both men and women prefer a planned business life.

He spoke of the honesty and industry of the small business man, who predominated in France, and of the devout Catholic faith, a religious attitude deeply rooted in traditions.

The French revolution, he averred, brought about a sense of equality, developed a sense of freedom and unity among all classes of the populace, respecting minorities. But in their life of security following the revolution the French made a mistake by revealing too much in the past. They became a strong and dominant nation, content to rest on their laurels, Dr. May commented.

Thought Country Invincible

The German attack of the first world war brought a revitalization, but with the German defeat the French, Dr. May said, seemed to think their country was invincible.

Telling of French reactions of recent years the speaker said that while he lived in that country he was surprised to find the French people totally unprepared to meet aggression. "I discussed with many Frenchmen the growing danger of a dynamic and imperialistic Germany, but found that the people were absolutely unprepared in their attitudes toward Fascism or Nazism," he remarked.

"Time has to pass before we know the real inside story of the fall of France," he said, "however, we are fortunate to know these important facts: the tragic discord among the leading statesmen in France in its crucial hours, that the disunity of labor and capital undermined the morale of the people, discouraged the industry of the nation and that personal intrigues and high treason among leading bankers ruined a solid and firm policy of the nation."

Indifference to Destiny

"Open resignation from national duties, defeatism and indifference to her destiny ruined the French nation," he summarized.

However, he stated in optimism, that the France of today is awakened, and that current reports indicate the French spirit, her revolutionary character is breaking through. Even the Vichy government wants to resist Hitler; England is aiding by its support to the new French government that has been set up in exile and, it was noted by the speaker, there are still eight million free Frenchmen left.

Another lecture on international conditions will be given by Dr. May the second Tuesday night in December.

Mrs. Howard McAlister entertained at her home Tuesday evening in a miscellaneous shower, in honor of Mrs. Paul Schultz, who is leaving soon for Columbia, South Carolina, to make her home. The diversion of the evening was Liverpool rummy. Awards went to Miss Frances Urban and Mrs. James Anderson and the consolation to Mrs. Joe Brownfield.

The refreshments were in keeping with the holiday season. Guests present were, Misses Dorothy Dean McAlister, Frances Urban, Alma Kurtz, Mildred Brockman, Mrs. Virginia Driskell, Mrs. James Anderson, Mrs. Jack Brock, Mrs. Elmer Paul, Jr., Mrs. Joe Brownfield, Mrs. Harry Light, Mrs. Schultz and Mrs. McAlister, the hostess.

S-C Tiger Lettermen Are Named

Players Will Receive Honors At The Annual Recognition Assembly

Nineteen first team letters and fourteen second team letters are to be given by Smith-Cotton high school to football players of the 1940 season. Of the first nineteen players only three will return for 1941, the other being graduated this spring.

Coach Joe Benson, today, announced the players had completed the necessary quarters for the first and second team honors. The presentation of the letters are to be made to the players at the Recognition Assembly, the last assembly to be held in May 1941.

The following boys are to be honored with the first team letters: Herman Logan, Carl Russell, Billy McClain, and Bud Mitchell, who played ends; Sam Switzer, Charles Lettich, Harold DeJarnett, Ralph Thomas tackles; Cecil Landers, Charles Weller, Gregory Aguirre, Guards; James Gardner, Jack Steele, centers; Jimmy Anderson, Leland Thomas, Fred Swisher, Halfbacks; Jimmy Myers, quarterback; Randall Scott, and Jack Graham fullbacks.

Last week the team honored Cecil Landers and Herman Logan by electing them as Co-Captains of the 1940 Tiger football team of Smith-Cotton high school.

Second team letters are to be presented to the following: Bill Martin, Floyd Tate, J. B. Woodward, ends; Lewis Wheeler, Bobbie Green, and Bobbie Bothwell tackles; Harold Lane, Bobbie Booth, Leroy Bouton, guards; Pearly Hall, center; Dannie Van Dyne, Kenneth Lutgen, and Elwood McMacKin, halfbacks; Otis Thomas, fullback.

All of the first team players with the exception of DeJarnett, Russell and Anderson, who are Juniors, will graduate.

In the Second team lineup Martin and Lane are to be graduated while Lutgen, Bouton, Hall, Tate, Van Dyne, and Thomas are Sophomores; Booth, Wheeler, Bothwell, McMacKin, Woodward, and Green are Juniors.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—We're back in the big city and hear Will Preston of Miami is in town. . . Could it be to see whether Fordham will accept an Orange Bowl bid? They will, and how! . . . Sorry we arrived too late for that grand double-feature put on by Frank Phillips and his Oklahoma Oilers. . . The Oilers won the basketball game, and "Uncle Frank" presided over a table of wild game from his Sooner ranch that the boys hereabouts won't forget for a long time. . . ### Heard In The Middle:

That N. Y. U's poor football showing this year can be charged to the departure last spring of Backfield Coach Archie Roberts. . . That Penn's Frank Reagan might have done much better against Michigan, if he hadn't gone into the game with a bad leg, about which the Quakers said nothing so there'd be no cries of "alibi." . . And that the injury was aggravated by a twisting tackle within the first five minutes of play. . . That Cornell started the Penn game with all six first and second stringers on the left side of the line banged up or out of it entirely. . . All three Penn touchdowns went through that hole. . . That Francis Schmidt was giving his Ohio Staters new plays the day before they met Minnesota.

History Class

Remember way back when the Army last won a major football game? . . . It was against Navy in 1938. . . Which leads up to the thought of the day: Why doesn't Coach Bill Wood mechanize the Cadets? . . . They haven't gone very far on foot.

Along golf's winter circuit, they are wondering whether Ben Hogan will be as tough to talk to as he was after leading last winter's money winners. . . Out in Kansas, there's quite a stir over Gerald Tucker's change of address to U. of Oklahoma. . . The former Winfield (Kans.) cage ace was ticketed first for Northwestern, then for Kansas State. . . Note to the hinterlands: Watch out for Nat Holman's City College five when visiting New York. . . Tommy Harmon, who would rather be a sports announcer than a pro football player, is booked for two air engagements this week.

Story Telling Department

Arch Ward of the Chicago Tribune has one of the prize yarns of the football season. It concerns two Iowa fans who wrote Coach Eddie Anderson suggesting that, since he was shy on ends, he shift Fullback Bill Green to that position. . . The doctor thanked them for the idea, but pointed out it usually is difficult for a man to change to an unfamiliar position. In the Wisconsin game, Green played fullback and scored three touchdowns. The two helpful alumni saw the game, then went home and wrote: "You go on coaching the football team, and we'll tend to our business." It was signed, "Two of Iowa's poorest coaches."

Fight Results On Tuesday Night

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Fritzie Zivic, 149, Pittsburgh welterweight champion, stopped Ronnie (Frenchy) Beaudin, 140½, Toronto, Ont., (3).

FRESNO, Calif.—Tabby Romero, 147, Phoenix, Ariz., knocked out Al Carlisle, 140, Fresno, (5).

COLUMBUS, O.—Jack (Buddy) Walker, 191, Columbus, and Otis Thomas, 200, Chicago, drew, (10).

NEW YORK—Ernie Vigh, 160, Newburgh, N. Y., outpointed Jay Macedon, 155½, Orange, N. J., (8). Yussel Goldstein, 150, Brooklyn, stopped Bill Beauhault, 143½, Jersey City, (4).

'Passin' Paul' Likes Baseball

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 27.—(P)—Paul Christman declared today he has such little regard for professional football as a future that it would take "something like $10,000" to lure him into the play for pay circuit.

Missouri's merry magician of the gridiron, who completed his college career last Thursday, insisted, "I don't want to play pro football. Such a career is comparatively short, and that's why only a really attractive offer—something like $10,000 a year—would make me consider it."

Christman said he had received "feelers but no definite offers" from several pro teams. "Baseball offers?" "No offers, either," he pointed out, "because major league teams aren't allowed to tamper with college players. However, scouts from nearly ever team have talked to me. I've talked more to Detroit than any other club. That's where my brother Mark broke in."

Mark Christman, formerly with Detroit and the St. Louis Browns, plays shortstop for Toledo in the American Association.

Paul, a first baseman and long ball hitter, hopes to sign a baseball contract in June and report immediately. He will return to the University of Missouri next fall to complete his undergraduate work unless he gets some "really attractive" pro football offer.

Browns Go After Two Pitchers

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 27.—(P)—The St. Louis Browns, who profited so handsomely through night baseball last season, will take their money bags to the winter baseball meetings in an effort to strengthen the team.

General Manager Bill Dewitt said today the Brownie management would engage actively in player markets at the minor league meeting in Atlanta next week and at the majors' powwow at Chicago a week later. "Long green" will be waved freely, Dewitt said, as the Browns have adopted a standpat policy—no trades, no sales of the own players—following the team's general improvement the past season. It finished sixth—highest Brownie ranking since 1934.

Dewitt said the club was after at least two pitchers and an experienced major league catcher.

With introduction of night baseball at Sportsman's park last season, the Browns drew their best home attendance since 1929. They played to approximately 280,000 paying customers, with 136,967 of them clicking the turnstiles at 14 night games.

Injuries Hamper The Jayhawks

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 27.—(P)—There's nothing like a few cracked ribs and battered knees to throw a football team out of joint. The Kansas Jayhawkers are stepping into the fog-end of the season with enough injuries to keep the trainer working a month overtime.

Colorado State comes to Lawrence tomorrow to help celebrate Kansas' Thanksgiving—but Kansas Coach Gwinn Henry has little to be thankful for. His team's been battered around all fall and the Jayhawkers are showing it. Don Pierce, regular center, had two nails torn off his right hand in the Missouri game. The trainer still is trying to find a way to protect his fingers without bothering Pierce's passing.

Bob Fluger, 202 pound guard is sidelined with a knocked down knee injury. Ross Relph, regular left tackle, re-injured a shoulder in the Missouri tilt.

Two backfield regulars, Jake Fry and Don Pollom, also were hurt at Missouri but may play against the Colorado Aggies.

Despite the injuries, the Kansas may be able to end the season with a victory. In Big Seven competition, Colorado State won only one game, lost three and tied two.

Last week end the Aggies played Brigham Young to a 13-13 tie. Kansas trounced the Aggies 7 to 0 last season.

Nebraska, leader of the Big Six went through a long drill on new plays in preparation for Saturday's game against Kansas State. Only tackle Royal Kahler, who has a leg injury, was missing from the drill, held inside because of the weather.

A long workout at K-State kept the players on the field after dark. They romped through offensive and the defensive drills against the yearlings.

The Oklahoma Sooners emphasized passing in their last workout of the season. They clash with Santa Clara at San Francisco Saturday.

Don Faurot Principal Speaker At Wentworth

LEXINGTON, Mo., (Special)—Don Faurot, University of Missouri Tigers coach, will be the principal speaker at the football banquet staged at the Municipal auditorium on December 5, for members of the football team of Wentworth varsity and high school and the Lexington high teams. The banquet will be given by the football fans of Lexington and vicinity.

Faurot will be accompanied by Pitching Paul Christman, Harry Lee, former Wentworth grid star, and Darold Jenkins of Higginsville, center of the M. U. squad.

Waxers Win In First Game Of Cage Season

Defeat Napton By 53 To 34 There Tuesday Night

The Van Brite Waxers in their first game of the season traveled to Napton Tuesday night to hand the Napton Orioles a 53 to 34 trouncing. Considering it was the first game, the Waxers played good ball and worked the ball in for many set-up shots.

Blaine was particularly effective—hitting the hoop for 10 field goals and 20 points to lead the scoring for either team. Berry, another new comer to the Waxers lineup was runner-up with 11 points.

Eveberg of Napton also had a good night scoring 11 points.

The score:

Waxers	FG	FT	F
Blaine, f	10	0	1
Taylor, f	4	0	0
Berry, f	5	1	2
Alley, c	1	1	0

Talk Of Change At Ohio State

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 27.—(P)—A famed exponent of football razzle dazzle, Ohio State's Francis A. Schmidt, today is the center of as dizzy coaching job puzzle as some of his pet players.

After seven years at the Buckeye helm, the taciturn Texan will not be rehired as head football coach, according the Ohio State Journal. Schmidt termed it a "cock and bull story."

But while university officials unanimously declared that there was no foundation for the report, none would say that he would be re-employed, and among Ohio's rabid fandom there already was talk of a new coach, with Jock Sutherland, former Pitt mentor now coaching Brooklyn's National League pro gridders, and Earl Blaik, who heads Dartmouth's Indians, mentioned.

Blaik was understood to have been among coaches prominently considered before Schmidt brought his aerial circus and behind-the-line legerdemain here from Texas Christian.

The Journal said that the 10-member athletic board probably would not meet before December 7 to act on the matter.

It was considered certain that the board would discuss published reports that school politics marred player harmony, that players did not train and that there was friction in the coaching staff.

Since coming to Ohio State, Schmidt's teams have won 39 games, yest 16 and tied one. The Bucks tied for the western conference tied once during that period and won it last year. This year's team won four games and lost four for the worst season in 10 years.

Make Ready For Basketball

COLUMBIA, Mo., Nov. 27.—(P)—A 16-game University of Missouri basketball schedule was released today with one of the games—slated against Washington university here Jan. 3—still listed as tentative.

The Tigers tied Kansas and Oklahoma for the Big Six championship last year and also deadlocked Oklahoma for the conference title two seasons ago.

The addition last night of three football players—Harry Ice, Charley Hemmel, and Ralph Carter—brought the cage squad to 15 players, five of them lettermen. Lettered players are Herb Gregg, Keith Bangert, and Arch Watson, forwards, and Capt. Martin Nash and Loren Mills, guards. Coach George Edwards has shifted Watson to center.

The 1940-41 basketball schedule:

Missouri at Washington U. Dec. 13; Missouri at St. Louis U. Dec. 14; Westminster at Missouri, Dec. 19; Washington at Missouri, Jan. 3 (tentative); Missouri at Springfield Teachers College Jan. 8; Iowa State at Missouri, Jan. 11; St. Louis at Missouri, Jan. 14; Missouri at Kansas, Jan. 16; Missouri at Iowa State, Jan. 18; Missouri at Nebraska, Jan. 20; Missouri at Oklahoma, Jan. 24; Missouri at Kansas State, Feb. 6; Nebraska at Missouri, Feb. 15; Kansas State at Missouri, Feb. 17; Kansas at Missouri, Feb. 21; and Oklahoma at Missouri, March 1.

M. U. Linemen To Be In All-Star Game

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 27.—(P)—Frank Hood, Rockhurst college coach and coach of a Missouri team that will play against a Kansas team Sunday in a Missouri-Kansas collegiate all-star football game, has announced Dale Everly and Bob Wakman, Missouri University linemen, will participate in the game.

Barker In Final Whirl For Season In Guessing On Games

By Herb Barker
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(P)—Being the final whirl at the football guessing contest:

Thursday

Texas-Texas A. & M.: The final hurdle for the unbeaten, untied Aggies. If Kimbrough, Thomason and Robnett, Inc., get past this one the Aggies will become the first team in history to take the South-west title twice in succession. It's a long standing jinx, but this corner believes firmly the Aggies are going to make it. Texas A. & M.

Brown-Columbia: The Lions are just about football's leading opportunists. You can't make a mistake against them without it showing on the scoreboard. Therefore, Columbia.

South Carolina-Wake Forest: Probably close, but taking Wake Forest.

Tulsa-Arkansas: Hard to figure, but it looks like the edge belongs to Tulsa.

Citadel-Davidson: Out of the hat, Davidson.

Kansas-Colorado State: No surprise either way. Kansas.

Saturday

Army-Navy: One of Army weak-est teams, but that's no guarantee this won't develop into one of the tightest games of the year. Navy has the power and the speed, but has had trouble around the goal line all year. We'll take the Navy, but not by much.

California-Stanford: Last obstacle for Stanford's unbeaten, untied Indians, and it may be a tough one. California has played well ever since its opening game rout by Michigan. Still one vote for Stanford.

Boston College-Holy Cross: Does not seem to be much hope for Holy Cross, even though this is one of those traditional affairs, Boston College.

Nebraska-Kansas State: Nebraska should clinch the Big Six crown here.

Vanderbilt-Tennessee: The Commodores won't go down without fighting, but there's no possible choice here except undefeated, untied Tennessee.

Duke-Pitt: Pitt is finishing strong but it's doubtful whether the Panthers can deal with this one. Duke.

Duquesne-Carnegie: Taking Duquesne.

Fordham-New York University: Ditto Fordham.

Alabama-Mississippi State: One of the best games of the day, and State will need to be at its best if it wants to protect its undefeated record. Mississippi State.

Florida-Auburn: Florida seems to be coming and Auburn going. Florida.

Georgia Tech-Georgia: A dog-fight from the word go. The coin says Georgia.

Louisiana State-Tulane: Looks like Tulane.

Southern Methodist-Texas Christian: Taking the Methodists.

Rice-Baylor: What do you do in a case like this out of the hat, Rice.

Maryland-Washington & Lee: Not much to choose. Maryland.

Santa Clara-Oklahoma: Close enough. Santa Clara.

Washington-Washington State: Like Washington.

Oregon State-Oregon: And Oregon State.

Long range guessing: Dec. 7. Auburn over Villanova; Notre Dame over Southern California; Texas over Florida; South Carolina over Citadel; Southern Methodist over Rice.

Cue Experts To Meet In Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 27.—(P)—The country's ranking three cushion billiard experts will assemble again in Chicago this winter for a 120-game schedule, January 13 to February 6, to determine the world title.

The National Billiard Association said that the tourney, to be held at Bensinger's arena, would carry a $20,000 prize list. Invitations have been sent to 21 stars and from the acceptances a field of 16 will be formed.

Willie Hoppe of New York is expected to compete. Last year he won 20 consecutive matches to capture the championship without loss of a game, one of the most remarkable feats in all sports history. He set a record of 1.6 billiards per inning.

How Winter OIL-PLATING maintains needed lubricant in advance for safe quick starts

Any good timely oil ad tells you the one same truth . . . your Winter oil ought to flow fast. For it must come groping up from the bottom of your engine, to all inner surfaces—a total area bigger than a windshield, but tough for the oil to reach. The sooner the oil could get there, the more safely you'd start up.

That's what's at stake. And that's why many stop depending on fast flow alone, as they learn that their engines can be OIL-PLATED to lubricate "faster than instantly" at every Winter start. Simply changing to Conoco Germ Processed oil brings your engine OIL-PLATING, which cannot be late getting started, because it's always PLATED UP where needed, before you even step out of the house.

OIL-PLATING, you see, isn't all draining down during long cold standstills. The extra man-made substance in Germ Processed oil—patented—bonds OIL-PLATING to engine parts lastingly. It stays there. And lubricant couldn't be prompter than that in smoothing the way for precious parts, instead of letting them grind. At Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station today, change to this long-lasting oil that OIL-PLATES. Continental Oil Company

C. F. Scotten Addresses The PTA Council

Program Given On Tuesday Was A Varied One

Training for personal efficiency, human relationship, economic efficiency and civic responsibility are recently formulated educational objectives which were explained by C. F. Scotten, county superintendent of schools, in an address to the Pettis County Council of Parent-Teacher associations on Tuesday. His explanation of the in service training of the teaching staff and the guidance of the individual child were of much interest to the group of rural school patrons.

In following the year's program, "Know your school and community," Mrs. William Reed, county council president, presented Miss Mary Beth Kesterson and her pupils of Mosby school in a book week original dramatization. This unit of work showed further the modern teacher's part as a director of child's learning for the script contained original dialogue, songs, and poems with the singing of "God Bless America" as a final number. This presentation of class room work showed the result of skilled teaching and was enjoyed by the group.

Books — A Magic Carpet. Original Playlet, Mosby school. Teacher, Mary B. Kesterson. Bible Stories, Maude and Mischa Peterson.

Luther's Cradle Hymn, Elmer Van Dyke.

Hans Brinker, or the Silver Skates, Boys of the Zuider Zee, Howard Brown, Dennis Nichols, Billy Franklin.

Autobiography, Will James. Home On The Range, Leroy Van Dyke. Paul Brown.

Tom Sawyer, Mark Twain Dialogue—Tom and Huck Finn, Gerald Brown, Elbert Van Dyke.

Missouri Waltz, Eldon Leiter, Esther Leiter.

Tales of a Chinese Grandmother Chinese Vegetable Man, June Cramer.

White Indian Boy — Indian Lullaby, Bonnie Mosby and Betty Mosby.

Lincoln, the Boy, Carl Sandburg.

Hats Off, Howard Brown. God Bless America, Ira Hensley. Betty J. Brown, Donald Mosby and the school.

Miss Mary Sue Campbell, art supervisor in the county, had arranged an attractive display of different types of creative art work done by pupils under her direction in the county. The display included murals, soap carving, posters, animal drawings and Christmas cards. The council plans to continue school work exhibits at their meetings.

Following a round table discussion of the hot lunch program in the rural schools, Miss Reba Gumm, county health nurse outlined her proposed sanitation program for the rural schools. She demonstrated equipment which could be used for the Hot Jar method of school lunches. With the assistance of Miss Schmidt, nurse, a demonstration of a splendid type of hand washing drill was given.

By Health Bill
Mrs. M. E. Green, Sedalia district president, called the attention of the group to a baby health bill which is to be introduced in a future session of the Missouri State legislature. The vote of the council approving such a measure on Tuesday seems to be the first from any organized group in Pettis county according to the literature sent out by the sponsors of the bill.

The group enjoyed their new meeting place in the basement of the Fifth Street Methodist church. A contributed luncheon was served at the noon hour.

The unit reports showed added support of the discussion groups on topics of child welfare. Mrs. P. R. Burford, in discussing the Standard of Excellence goals, urged the need of promptness in sending in membership dues by December 1. Mrs. Paul Zink told of a play sponsored by the Sedalia council to be given later in the Smith-Cotton auditorium.

Additional copies of the Sedalia District Bulletin are available in Mr. Scotten's office. The November copy has a listing of Reading Circle books for social studies of the "A" class.

The January meeting of the council will be on Tuesday, December twenty-first. A discussion of school finances will be given by Mrs. Lawson McCurdy, school clerk of the Smelser school.

Guest Speaker At Birthday Party

The annual birthday party of Broadway Presbyterian church will be held Thursday evening, November 28th. This occasion has become a custom of the congregation and one of the enjoyable evenings of the year. It is given under the direction of the Sunshine committee of the church. Supper, family-night style, will be served at 6:30 p. m. Tables will be set for ten people and for each table will be special hostesses. After the supper all will adjourn to the large play room of the service building. The program of the evening will be given here. Mrs. J. M. Rodeman will give a violin solo and Miss Vivian Valkenberg a musical number. Dr. S. Willis McKelvey, for the

Santa Makes Special Call To See Ill Youngster

Little Juanita Harkless, of 1901 East Fifteenth street, thought she was still dreaming when Santa Claus called in person at her bedside Tuesday afternoon following the parade. Juanita wrote the following letter to the "Chamber of Commerce, headquarters of Santa Claus, Sedalia, Mo. 'Dear Santa, will you please come and see my little sister who is sick in bed, her address is— Juanita Harkless, 1901 E. 15th St. From Irene.' Ellsworth Green, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and Santa Claus paid the sick girl a visit after the parade had completed its circuit and Santa Claus had greeted all of the happy youngsters who were able to attend. When Santa arrived at her home, Juanita was asleep and when her mother insisted on waking her the little girl could not realize that Santa was really in her room. She soon awakened, however, and sat up in bed to shake hands with him. Santa gave her a chocolate image of himself to eat when she recovers from her illness and went on to pay a few other visits in Sedalia.

past fifteen years pastor of the Second Presbyterian church of Kansas City will bring the address of the evening. Dr. McKelvey is nationally known in his denomination and one of the effective church leaders of Kansas City.

British Fleet In 'Brush' With Ships Of Italian Forces

alarm in mid-afternoon, but no incidents were reported immediately.

The raiders over Turin were said by the air ministry to have attacked the royal arsenal and "greatly increased" damage done to the city Saturday night.

(Damage to buildings in the center and outskirts of Turin, Italy's leading industrial city, was acknowledged by the Italian communiqué today, but the arsenal was not mentioned among the targets.)

Roaring over Turin in "quick succession" the air ministry bulletin said, the British bombers found no clouds obstructing their view and "were able to pick out their objectives by various landmarks."

The first aircraft arrived just after 11 p. m., the ministry reported, and dropped high explosive and incendiary bombs, "which immediately started a number of fires."

Frequent Explosives

"Pilots of the next bombers," the ministry said, "described how they saw on their arrival one of the larger factory buildings, 200 yards long by 50 yards wide, already well alight. Not only was it burning fiercely, but as the flames reached explosive material, there were frequent eruptions in the middle of the blaze."

"New fires were started and about an hour later, when our bombers had reached the Alps and none was over the city, observers looked back over the plain and saw that Turin was still being disturbed by a number of explosions."

Once the capital of Italy, Turin sprawls on the Piedmont plains, a city of more than 500,000, a center of automobile and airplane manufacturing.

To Berlin's Environs

(German officials said some of the British planes reached Berlin's environs last night, causing "some slight house and terrain damage," but declared they failed to reach the center of the Nazi capital.

Authorities now permit the identification of three cities which have borne the brunt of recent Nazi raid on provincial England as Birmingham, great industrial center of the midlands; Bristol, a west coast port and gateway for supplies from the United States, and Southampton, on the English channel.

Although Bristol's streets are piled high with crumbled walls of buildings and bare girders rise like skeletons over the debris of buildings bombed by waves of German raiders last Sunday, British reports depreciate their effect on Bristol's usefulness as a war port.

"Although it was a severe raid on Bristol," the press association (British news agency) said, "it was nowhere as heavy as Coventry, and the city and port to which the Germans referred in the past tense still has a very active future."

Shops and old buildings were the chief places to suffer, it said, and "within a short time life was almost back to normal; transport was running to schedule, although some was diverted, and accommodation was being found for the homeless."

(British reports that the Nazis' chief target last night was a western English city which had been raided heavily the previous two nights indicated Bristol again was the focus of the air siege.)

There was no official statement of details on the Sunday night assault on Bristol—merely permission to name the city and describe some of the damage. The Germans apparently marked out some areas for destruction and smashed them.

When the midnight let up came in last night's attacks, there had been only slight damage and few casualties, the air and home security ministries reported in a communiqué.

Into Sharper Conflict

BITOLJ, Yugoslavia, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Squadrons of British and Greek planes roared over Lake Ochrida today, setting off an air raid alarm in the Yugoslav village of Ochrida to bomb Italian units and supply columns in Albania on the road between Pogradetz and Capasan.

Improved weather brought the Greek and Italian land forces into sharper conflict near the Yugoslav frontier, where intense artillery fire was heard.

Reports from the frontier said the Greeks, after occupying the village of Cerova on the right bank of the Cerova river yesterday, were digging in along the stream, which now is the front line south of Pogradetz.

The Greeks were said to have captured two large cannons and a large quantity of ammunition when they took Cerova.

The Italians were reported to have launched a strong counter-offensive with fresh troops south of Koritza.

A new Greek attack was reported north from Moskopolis against a mountain peak where the Italians held positions.

Youth Reported To Have Run Away From Home

Eugene Neuenschwander, 16, of St. Louis, said to have run away from home, was located near Sedalia Tuesday by Sergeant Paul E. Corl of the highway patrol. He returned to St. Louis Tuesday night by train after relatives had wired him a ticket.

Blood Revenge Is Meted Out By Executions

whether Antonescu approved the mass executions. Until now he has been understood to oppose violent methods, preferring to use his personal influence to reconcile and unite dissident elements in the nation.

The brief dispatches said it was not learned who issued the death order, nor was it known publicly whether any of the condemned had been given secret trials.

For weeks the Iron Guard commission questioned former officials regarding responsibility for anti-Guard measures, but the communiqués indicated this was merely a preliminary inquiry.

The firing squads went to work, it was reported, after the bones of Codreanu and his lieutenants were exhumed preparatory to a ceremonial reinterment in the Green House, Bucharest Iron Guard headquarters.

The Green House itself was the scene of gun fighting a few days ago when right wing Guardists attempted a revolt under Codreanu's father against the leadership of Horia Sima.

It was officially announced that two men were wounded. Subsequent unconfirmed reports said several of the right wing guards were executed as traitors.

One report said all generals of the Rumanian army offered their resignations after learning of the executions.

The Rumanian press up to noon today still carried no report of the executions.

Contrasting motives were advanced by close observers of Rumanian events for the Guardists' act of vengeance. One theory was that the toughest section of the Guards, the party's semi-official police, took things in their own hands, determined to repay quickly what they considered the past wrongs without "bothering" the higher-ups about it.

Another theory was that the executions were endorsed by the Antonescu-Sima administration as possibly the easiest way to heal the breach over inner Guardist policies.

Guardists who had failed to get state jobs, who wanted to put King Carol himself on trial and who were crowded out of the party council have been a source of deep discontent.

It was suggested that the blood bath of the Guards' common enemies might tend to consolidate the Guard again.

Millis Takes Over New Job

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Harry Alvin Millis, 67-year old expert in the field of labor and social economics stepped into the troubled labor relations board today to fill the post occupied for five controversial years by J. Warren Madden.

Millis brings to his new job what his friends call an informal, analytical approach to labor problems. He is known as a fact finder and arbitrator of long experience.

The senate gave his appointment unanimous confirmation and the belief has been expressed in a number of legislative quarters that his selection would still some of the recent criticism directed at the board.

Since Madden's term expired last August 27, the two remaining board members, Edwin S. Smith and William M. Leiserson, have been reported deadlocked on some matters for the want of a third and deciding vote. Moreover, the proposals are still pending in congress for sweeping revision of the board's machinery and authority.

Long postponed changes in the procedure and personnel were expected to follow the seating of Millis.

Show Pictures On 'Know Your Money'

Two motion pictures, "Making Money" and "Know Your Money" will be shown at the Elks Club, during the regular meeting of the club tonight. The pictures were also shown at the Third National Bank at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, and at the Smith-Cotton high school this morning.

W. B. Cline, representative of the United States Secret Service Department of the Treasury, is in charge of the showings and gives lectures along with the pictures.

Dismiss A Young Bride From School

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 27.—(AP)—A 14-year-old girl was dismissed from a grade school here last week, it was disclosed today, when school authorities learned she was married.

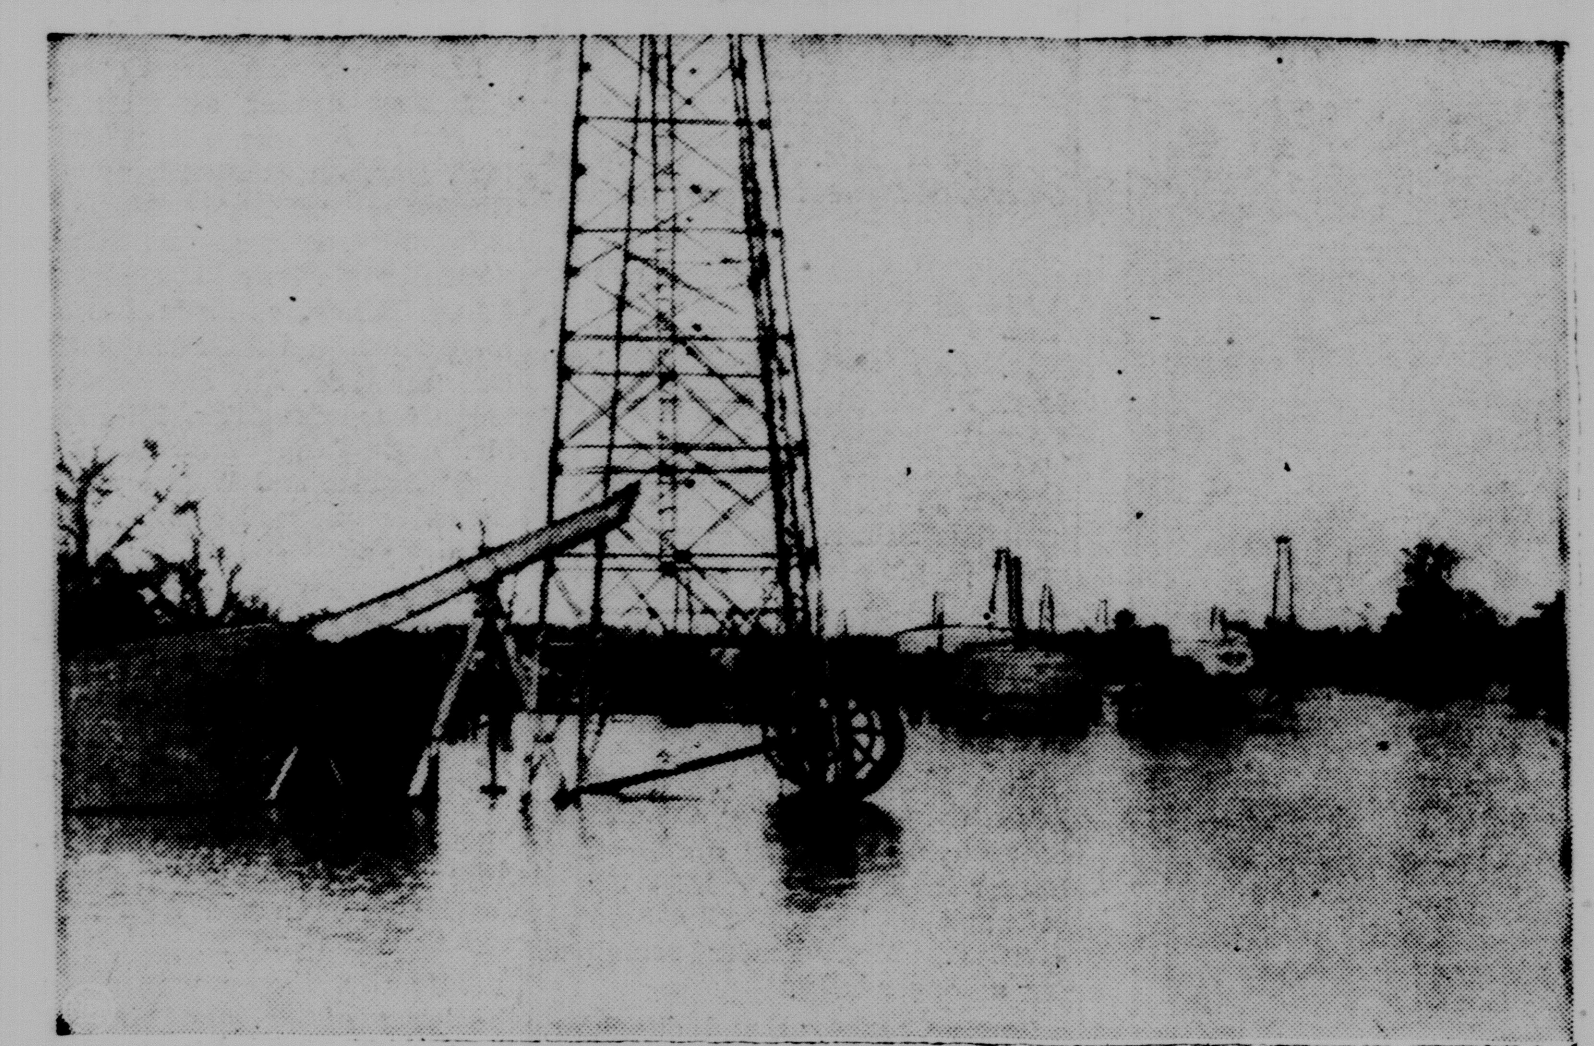

James D. Moles, principal of the Eugene Field school, said he learned of the marriage and investigated before the young bride was dropped because of school regulations.

The girl, an eighth-grade student, eloped with a mechanic October 24 and they were married by a justice of the peace at St. Charles. She gave her age as 18 to the marriage license clerk.

Charged With Giving A Bogus Check

Leonard Schenewark, charged with giving a bogus check to Louis Isgur, was arrested in Union, Mo., at the request of Sheriff W. L. Marlin, and returned from that city by Sheriff Marlin Tuesday. He is held in the county jail pending a hearing.

Floods And Ice Blanket Texas Panhandle

Would Promote 1,200 Reservists

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The army called today for recommendations for temporary promotion of more than 1,200 reserve first and second lieutenants now on active duty.

The war department directed army, corps area and department commanders, chiefs of arms and services and commanders of exempted stations to submit the names of lieutenants eligible for temporary promotion to the next highest grade.

Reserve second lieutenants who had completed at least one year of extended active duty with the regular army on September 9, the department said, would be eligible for promotion in a temporary status to the grade of first lieutenant.

Approximately 100 reserve first lieutenants, all in the air corps, who have been on extended active duty for at least three years prior to September 9 would be eligible for temporary promotion to the grade of captain.

Discuss A New Loan For China

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Jesse H. Jones, federal loan administrator said today he was discussing a new loan with the Chinese government.

"As long as the Chinese are in trouble, we want to be friendly and help them," he said at a press conference. He said no amount had been mentioned yet. Previous loans to China have aggregated $70,000,000.

At the same press conference, Jones said, "congress must decide" whether loans shall be made to Great Britain.

"I have no intent to make any loans in contravention of the purposes and spirit of the Johnson act," he said. The Johnson act bars loans to governments which have defaulted on the world war debt and Great Britain is one of these.

At the capitol, the senate foreign relations committee postponed action on proposals to relax legal restrictions so as to permit loans to Britain.

Chairman George (D-Ga) told reporters after the closed committee meeting that he had "no doubt that the question of further aid to Britain will be presented in some form to the next congress."

The committee voted unanimously, George said, to adopt a motion by Senator Clark (D-Mo) to defer action on pending proposals until January. These proposals included a resolution by Senator King (D-Utah) to repeal portions of the Johnson and neutrality acts and also a proposal by Senator Nye (R-ND) to inquire into British financial resources in this country.

Professor Seals Self In Attic

LIBERTY, Mo., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Prof. Chester J. Prince appreciatively sniffed the good air of the William Jewell College campus today and was grateful to his two daughters and their boy friend.

Professor Prince, personnel director at the college, had reason to be glad. It hadn't been for his daughters, Helen and Elizabeth and their friend, Joseph Katz, New York, a college student, he might still be nailed up in the attic of his home.

The professor's family complained cold drafts from the attic made their bungalow uncomfortable. Armed with hammer, saw, boards and nails, he crawled into the attic to seal it up.

After a heavy pounding session everything was nailed tight. The professor wanted to leave the attic but he couldn't. He had sealed himself in and found he couldn't pry the boards loose again.

Yells, and resounding hammer blows on the floor brought Helen, Elizabeth and Joseph to the rescue. They brought a log from the fire place and battered the boards off. The professor crawled out of the attic.

"I had to do something, I guess, to qualify as a college professor," he commented.

Made Governor Of Puerto Rico

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes today announced appointment by President Roosevelt of Jose M. Gallardo, acting governor of Puerto Rico, to be governor, succeeded Admiral William D. Leahy, recently named ambassador to France.

Gallardo is a native of Puerto Rico and has been the country's commissioner of education.

Former Opera Singer Dies

OSKALOOSA, Ia., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Virginia Knight Logan, 92, once a widely known opera singer and composer, died here today. She was the mother of the late Frederic Knight Logan, who composed the "Missouri Waltz."

Air Bases To Be Developed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Secretary Knox announced today that President Roosevelt had allotted $50,000,000 for immediate development of a chain of air and naval bases on sites recently acquired from England in exchange for 50 old American destroyers.

At the same time the navy department chief notified an additional class of naval and marine reserves, numbering 31,908 officers and men, that they should arrange their affairs so as to be ready for a call to active duty at any moment.

Knox also announced that additional divisions of organized naval reserves were being called to active duty immediately from New York and New Jersey for service with destroyers operating in the vicinity of the Panama canal.

In announcing the president's allocation of $50,000,000 for development of the new naval and air bases stretching from Newfoundland, off the coast of Canada, to British Guiana in South America, the naval secretary said the money would be used to provide storehouses, fuel oil storage, anchorages for ships and planes and other facilities.

Surveys already are in progress, he said, and the work will be completed as quickly as possible. The bases may be used to a considerable extent in the meantime, he added.

An agreement had been reached with authorities at Trinidad, off the northern coast of South America, on the location of the base site there, Knox said, although the "formality" of London's approval has not yet been given as far as he knows.

Knox also announced that the navy was undertaking to develop an air base at Tongue Point, Ore., at an estimated cost of $3,500,000.

U. S. Aid For Britain Grows

LONDON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—A heavy increase in United States aid to Britain in 1941 was indicated today by Arthur B. Purvis, chairman of the British purchasing commission in the United States.

Purvis, who has just returned to England by Clipper plane from New York, held a press conference:

"Next year, if I were sitting in Germany, I would be very worried at what is going to flow out of the United States."

Purvis said American plants for construction of war materials, in many cases, have been built "from the ground up," and that they will be getting into full operation next year.

He declined to disclose any statistics on production of airplanes or other war materials in the United States on the ground that it would be giving information to Britain's enemies.

Commenting on release of United States bomb sights to Britain, Purvis described the supply situation for them as "fully satisfactory."

Airplanes and ships, first of all, are needed from America, Purvis said, and after that other war equipment and machine tools.

He said that Canada was given a full opportunity to "have a hack at filling" British orders and that he was "very satisfied" with the dominion's war effort.

Purvis emphasized that next to airplanes, ships are Britain's most urgent need. As to American aid in shipping, he said he hoped "every means" would be considered.

He would not comment on the possibility of repeal of the United States cash-and-carry law.

May Resume Talks Halted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Immediate resumption of diplomatic talks between the United States and Russia, interrupted by the recent visit to Berlin of the Soviet premier, Vyacheslav Molotov, was disclosed today at the state department.

A meeting was announced for late afternoon between Constantine Oumansky, Soviet ambassador, and Sumner Welles, under-secretary of state. It was the first such conference scheduled since U. S.-Russian conversations stopped shortly before Molotov went to Berlin for talks with Adolf Hitler and other German leaders.

This was interpreted in informed quarters as a sign that Molotov's Berlin visit had not impaired the negotiations which have been in progress here for several months looking to a general improvement of Russo-American relations.

The Welles-Oumansky talks have dealt mainly with trade and related problems with a view to adjusting these before going on to broader questions.

Gains on each side have been relatively small so far, but both United States and Russia were understood to desire to continue the conversations.

Molotov's trip to Berlin caused concern at the time in official quarters here lest it presage closer Russian alignment with the Axis, possibly as a partner in the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo front.

Uphold Right Of Bargaining

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 27.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor reaffirmed today labor's right to collective bargaining and laid down three principles to be observed under wartime conditions.

The convention adopted the resolutions committee report which declared:

"Should wartime conditions develop the following principles become imperative:

"1. Universal obligation to service for defense—industrial or military—under democratic conditions.

"2. Labor should have representation on all policy making and administrative agencies and draft boards.

"3. Labor standards and other provisions for social welfare must be maintained under emergency conditions as essential to efficient production as well as national morale."

The AFL expressed "disappointment" that it was "not requested" to name representatives to the advisory committee to the council of national defense.

Class Initiation For Elks Tonight

A class of candidates to be known as the Gen. John J. Pershing class, will be initiated into Sedalia lodge No. 125, B. P. O. Elks tonight on the occasion of the official visit of District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler, George Klingman, of Joplin.

Following the initiation there will be a luncheon and showing of a moving picture, "Know Your Money," sponsored by the Secret Service Division of the Treasury Department.

Attempted Burglary

An attempt was made Tuesday night by thieves to enter the Martin Grocery, 1100 South Harrison avenue. The would be thieves failed to gain entrance to the building. Local police made an investigation.

If You Haven't $375, Skip This

It's easy to give the little woman a thrill this Christmas. All you need is a bankroll. Then give her one of these baubles New York's jewelers designed. The diamond necklace costs $25,000; the bracelet, $10,700. The diamond ring-watch comes for pin money: $375.

Possible Trade For Engines

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—An official prediction of "a very large shortage" of engines for American warplanes by next spring suggested the possibility to day that another trade of United States bombers for British-ordered engines might be in the offing.

Such a deal was regarded as being in line with the existing policy of dovetailing the filling of American and British military orders here as far as possible.

A few hours before the war department announced the impending motor shortage yesterday, Lord Lothian, British ambassador, made his second call at the state department in two days to discuss all the war needs of his country in the light of his recent visit to London.

Lord Lothian has summed up Britain's most urgent requirements as ships, munitions, planes and finances, but he said he made no specific request for aid.

On the subject of extending financial assistance to Britain, congress appeared disinclined to consider legislation to relax present credit restrictions, before the new session convenes in January. Meanwhile, administration officials were believed to be making a new study of the whole aid-to-Britain question.

Caution Urged On Dies Activity

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has telegraphed Chairman Dies (D-Tex.) of the house committee on un-American Activities that careful executive plans to combat subversive activities "may be severely handicapped or completely destroyed" by premature disclosure of facts or of suppositions to the public.

The president told Dies that departmental investigations also may be hindered by "hasty seizure of evidence" or by "giving of immunities" to witnesses before the congressional committees.

The White House telegram went to Dies last night at Orange, Tex., after a presidential secretary had received an acceptance from the Texan for a conference with Mr. Roosevelt Friday on dividing the spheres of jurisdiction of congressional and departmental work against subversive influences.

Dies previously had telegraphed the chief executive urging closer coordination of justice department and other federal activities against spies.

No Statement Now

ORANGE, Tex., Nov. 27.—(AP)—Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex.) said today he would not make any statement in connection with President Roosevelt's telegram to him yesterday until he has conferred with the president.

Judgment for the plaintiff in the sum of $1 on the first count, $189 on the second and $285 on the third was given in the circuit court this morning to the John Deere Plow Co., a corporation against Guy Hurd.

The case was to have a jury trial, but the last minute this morning the jury was waived and the evidence presented to the judge.

Decline Hits The Stock Market

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—(AP)—Prices declined substantially in the stock market today in the first decisive break-away from a narrow rut which has held for the past week.

Turnover, which speeded up on the setback, was around 900,000 shares, brisker in a fortnight. Some of the active movers showed declines of fractions to 3 or more points at the worst, though there were recoveries here and there at the finish.

Recent favorites, such as aircrafts, steels, chemicals and miscellaneous manufacturers, were among the divisions which gave ground most readily.

Dividends declarations in a flood, many of them increased or resumed payments, seemed incapable of stirring market men out of their buying timidity.

FOOD MARKET

Advice-

THE housekeeper who plans her menus for the week on Friday and then takes advantage of week-end specials will find that her food budget benefits accordingly and there will be a little surplus each week to use for special treats.

Pork loins and chops are most attractively priced in the stores of the largest of the food chains this week and after a summer of lighter meats, the family undoubtedly will welcome pork as a main course quite frequently. Legs of lamb are also a good buy and broilers, fryers and fowl are so low priced that there is no need to wait for Sunday to give the family chicken. Beef prices continue about where they were last week.

On seafoods New York reports that flounders and yellowtails should be plentiful and low priced. Porchies will be a budget item and good supplies of whiting and sardines are arriving. Boston is expecting ample supplies of groundfish with scrod and cod to be especially good buys. There will also be a good supply of flounder in the Boston area and although fresh salmon is scarce and high priced, there is plenty of frozen salmon available. Baltimore expects good supplies of bluefish and Florida mackerel as well as good production on red snapper.

Although the first of a series of apple weeks planned by the food chains to help move a surplus crop caused by shut down of the European market is over, apples are still being featured and the quality of almost all of the varieties is exceptionally good this year. Greenings make delicious sauce and pies and the Rome beauty is the best for baking.

Pecans Low

Other attractively priced fruits over the week-end will be Florida grapefruit, California oranges, Anjou pears and Emperor grapes. Pecans will be another featured item. Among vegetables the best buys will be green beans, cabbage, California broccoli, cauliflower, mushrooms, iceberg lettuce, carrots, potatoes, spinach and Canadian rutabagas. Southern peas are beginning to come in as are the first of the Howe cranberries. This latter will be a pre-Thanksgiving featured item this week.

Based on attractively priced items, the following menu is suggested for Sunday dinner:
Cream of Potato Soup
Roast Chicken with Bread Stuffing
Cranberry Sauce
Cauliflower
Cornbread
Apple and Celery Salad
Cheese and Crackers
Tea or Coffee

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

LIKE well-written novels, good meals are best concluded by pleasant surprise endings. Fine-flavored Peanut Butter Cookies with fresh or canned fruits are a light, colorful conclusion to a sturdy winter meal of roast, vegetables, and hot breads.

The fine, rich flavor of these cookies comes from the happy combination of white and brown sugar with the peanut butter. As well as flavor and creaminess, peanut butter adds vitamin B<sub>1</sub>.

Forming the cookies is "child's play"—and children like to help shape the cookies with their fingers and press them out with a fork.

Peanut Butter Cookies are just as appropriate for the tea table, and for the cookie jar's contribution to after-school hunger and midnight snack provokers, as they are for meals.

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup peanut butter
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup white sugar
1 egg
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 1/2 cups sifted soft wheat flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

Cream shortening and peanut butter together. Add sugar. Add beaten egg and vanilla. Sift flour, soda and salt together, and add. Form dough into small balls the size of marbles. Place on greased cookie sheet about 1 inch apart. Press crosswise with a fork. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: 40 two-inch cookies.

Something new and exciting for the bridge supper or luncheon—ham waffles with chicken-mushroom sauce.

Youthful Career Frock PATTERN 8825

Crisp, business-like and as gaily casual as the smart young women who step into elevators at pine o'clock and soar aloft for a busy day, this frock will skyrocket to success in their estimation—and the bosses'! Tailored, as all smart daytime clothes are this season, yet this design is by no means severe, because the skirt flares, the cleverly shaped waistline is so effective, and the bracelet-length sleeves are smartly, becomingly wide. (Have a frock like this with short sleeves, too; such a good design is well worth repeating.)

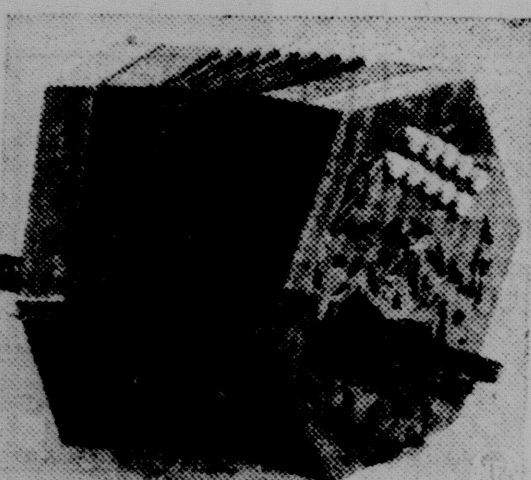

This design (No. 8825) makes up beautifully in wool crepe, flannel, flat crepe, jersey or velveteen—in dark colors or jewel tones. Fasten it with big ornamental buttons, and wear your favorite necklaces and brooches at the plain neckline.

Pattern No. 8825 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20; size 14 requires, with three-quarter sleeves, 3 1/2 yards of 54-inch material; with short sleeves, 3 1/4 yards.

Dude College

By Oren Arnold

Copyright 1940, NEA Service, Inc.

YESTERDAY: Ronnie goes west, registers at Pueblo U. meets Dr. Woodrow Wesley York, professor of archeology. He is young, rather handsome, and easily embarrassed. After her conference, Ronnie flies south, discovers a group of men walking. She swoons down on them, is greeted by a burst of gunfire.

THE GIRL WITH A CRUTCH

CHAPTER III

THE man across the table from Andre was scowling. "A fool you make of yourself," he was saying, "and fortunate for you is the change in plan."

"What do you mean?" Andre asked.

"I got your card. That much was all right, the information. But you would have been called here anyway. An—what is it you call yourself? Andre Girardeau, hah!" Andre's lips tightened. He hadn't come to Washington to be insulted, and yet he was helpless here.

"After all, Herr Girardeau, if you will, you are to do exactly as you are told. Must I explain what I mean? No. I speak not for myself, you know that. Now at home you were always a soft mark for the women, and here in America you make a name for yourself with the first pretty woman you contact. Do you fancy that is approved?"

"Listen, I—"

"No. You listen. You. Now, you can never work high if you let your attraction for women rule you, Herr—Girardeau, and the newspapers have been picturing you and writing about you and—"

Andre interrupted. "I was not making a fool of myself. I told you the way to get at the father was through the girl. It is he who owns the new bomb sight, remember."

"Ah, the bomb sight!"

"EXACTLY! Already I have seen every inch of the big factory here, and soon I could be intimate with the man himself. Even if I married the girl, it would be good cover."

"If you marry you will never live to be a good husband for long—remember that! But enough; there is work ahead. You go at once to Pueblo, New Mexico."

"But that's where the girl is!" Andre looked squarely at the other man, a squat, pompadoured one of middle age.

"Right. And the father. And the new bomb sight. What better region than a barren desert, to do bombing tests? Eh? We are not asleep, Herr Girardeau. You can go ahead and follow up your heart interest, impersonally. But not too far, mind you. If you are not shrewd—" The man shrugged. "Do you need any money?"

"I must live amid wealth."

"Right. Here is a wallet with $20,000 in it. There is no lack of money if the goal is attained, just as there is no question—yet—of your loyalty, but—"

Andre nodded, frowning in impatience. He detested this man who was his superior here. "What am I to do now?"

"Here is a map." They spread a picture of North America and the short man began measuring with a pencil. "You can see that, by good fortune, Pueblo, New Mexico, is at a strategic advantage. The principal border towns such as Brownsville and El Paso, Texas, Nogales and Tia Juana, are in virtual barricade. But where the international line runs through the open desert land—there, this dot is Pueblo, and there is the university too, where the Bailey girl goes. There also do you go."

"All right."

"See, it is just this far to Tampico, and here is Guaymas on the Mexican west coast, and Mazatlan."

"I see."

"That's all, now. You go direct to Pueblo, contact our operative there and get further orders. Here is a ring set with a chrysocolla stone. Wear it for identification. And the other operative there will be feigning a sprained ankle and walking with one crutch."

A young man was helping her from the car. "Ah, Senorita Montoya, may I help you?" Andre stared at the girl, and at her crutch, as she hobbled past.

"A crutch," echoed Andre, nodding.

"Right. Your ingenuity will then arrange a meeting."

WHEN the conference was ended and Andre had attended to his banking errand, he reserved a place on the next air transport west. There was time before the take off to telephone New York and have his luggage forwarded.

The air trip was interesting until nightfall, and then because there was no stimulating passengers with whom he might converse, he retired early. Dawn found him in Hachita, New Mexico, waiting for the little side-trip train that would take him to the quaint village of Pueblo and its "Dude College." By 1 p. m. he was on the college campus itself.

From the moment he got to Pueblo he was alert for the man walking with a crutch. Of course, chance might dictate more than one man on a crutch, but the ring would pave the way toward identification, Andre knew. He was in no great hurry.

He even thought of hiring or purchasing a car to drive out to the—what had Ronica said?—Rocking R Ranch, and seeing Ronica herself. But he had been reprimanded for putting personal tastes first; so, better he form his business contact first. Ronnie probably would be on the campus anyway.

He liked the general looks of things. Pueblo University surprised him. It was a veritable oasis, as was the whole town. The clerk in the expensive if small hotel here informed him that the town and its cluster of ranches really depended on the one stream that watered this region year round. An eccentric but wealthy cattleman and his wife had endowed the university originally, and unexpected dude patronage had built it into a luxury school.

Andre liked the beautiful Spanish architecture of its five buildings. The landscaping was superlative too, and he walked down an avenue of trees toward the administration building.

HE was admiring the nude statue of an Indian maiden in a fountain under the building's main arch, when a long whispering sedan drew up. At the same moment a bespectacled man stepped out of the building, carrying three books and a brief case, but Andre turned idly to look at the car.

"Mmmmm!" Andre murmured appreciatively, to himself.

Through the sedan window he saw the face of a girl, Spanish or Mexican, of extraordinary color-

ng. He could see that she was small, and reasonably young, but so very sure of herself as to be a trifle haughty. He liked the way her straight hair swept low and backward to frame her face.

The bespectacled man had stepped toward her, and now he dropped his books. He was at her sedan door even before her chauffeur.

"Hello, Dr. York," she greeted him, and her voice was almost lyrical.

"How are you, Senorita Montoya? May I help you into the building?"

She laughed gaily then and made a joke about her foot, but Andre's chin dropped. He barely regained his poise in time to keep from staring at her as she hobbled past him on one crutch.

GOLDEN ROAST COFFEE CO. MAIN AND PROSPECT

The BLUE Monday that became a RED LETTER day!

COFFEE IS MY WEAKNESS, MABEL. I CAN'T SEEM TO GIVE JIM THE COFFEE HE LIKES!

IT'S PROBABLY NOT YOUR FAULT, ELLEN, BUT THE BRAND YOU USE, STOP IN AT THE GROCER'S AND I'LL SHOW YOU WHY I STICK TO FOLGER'S

— 3 OUT OF 4 COFFEES COME FROM THE LOWLANDS—BUT THIS FOLGER'S IS MOUNTAIN GROWN. THAT'S WHAT GIVES IT SUCH VIGOROUS FLAVOR!

I'LL TRY A CAN RIGHT NOW!

Dear Diary: Jim took a second cup of coffee tonight and kissed me right in front of the company! Hurrah for Folgers!

Folger's has a distinct flavor advantage because it comes from the world's coffee growing Paradise! In tropical Central American mountains, sunshine, air, and rich volcanic soil produce a miracle in coffee flavor. Yet Folger's luxury need not cost you one cent extra. Letters from over 7,000 women say they can use one-fourth less Folger's and still enjoy the best flavor. Make tomorrow morning an especially good morning by serving Folger's! AVAILABLE IN BOTH REGULAR AND GRIND!

Jury Awards $60 To C. H. Williams

A jury in the circuit court on Tuesday awarded $60 to Chas. H. Williams for damages which he claimed in a suit filed against James E. Noel and Cecil Noel. The plaintiff asked $70 damages, the price of a cow which he alleged was killed by a truck owned by Noel and driven by Cecil.

Gives Up Claim To Presidency

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 27.—(P)—General Juan Andreu Almazan last night apparently forestalled possibility of a revolution in Mexico when he formally renounced all claims to "the honored office of president to which he said, "The people were good enough to elect me last July 7".

Almazan, independent presidential candidate who has consistently refused to concede his defeat by the administration candidate General Manuel Avila Camacho, arrived here late today by plane from the United States.

He declared in the prepared statement issued at his home soon afterward that the United States' decision to send Vice-President Henry A. Wallace to the Avila Camacho inauguration Dec. 1 had prompted his own renunciation.
